

A Very Special Deliver-E

Calling all socially-conscious couples: A new service called Special E will repurpose leftovers from your wedding. Available in 30 major markets across the country, its "Rescue Staff" will rescue any extra food and bring it to homeless shelters and soup kitchens to feed people that are hungry and homeless (or turn it into organic compost); recycle bottles and cans from your cocktail reception; deliver floral arrangements to local nursing homes and hospitals to bring cheer to the elderly and children that are sick, re-direct miscellaneous supplies to families who've lost their belongings in a natural disaster; and donate bridesmaids' dresses to disadvantaged teenage girls. The cost to use their service usually averages between $1-2 per guest, and some expenses can be written off as a charitable donation on your personal tax return. For more info, call 888-448-1930 or visit them online at www.thespeciale.com.
